RML RECEIVES MIA ‘TEAM WORK’ AWARD

Thursday 13th January 2011 - At the annual MIA Business Excellence Awards held last night, RML was presented with the 2010 Teamwork award in recognition of the Wellingborough-based outfit's outstanding record of five championship wins across all three of its motorsport projects last year – FIA World Touring Cars, Le Mans Series and British Touring Cars.

The awards have been an integral part of the Autosport International Show since 1995, acknowledging and celebrating excellence across all levels of UK motorsport. There are seven award categories and through MIA member votes, the winners of each prestigious accolade are chosen based on their notable contribution to the industry and their inspiring achievements over the past year.

Ray Mallock, Chief Executive: "It is a great honour to receive this award on behalf of the whole team at RML. In many ways, this is the most significant from our 2010 campaign in that it recognises the outstanding success achieved in five of the toughest UK, European and international championships across three disciplines. Few, if any other organisations have had this level of success anywhere in the world. RML prides itself on its core values for success, including team work, integrity and to always be the best through continuous improvement. 2010 was testament to those values and I am immensely proud to accept this accolade on behalf of all at RML. It is a fitting tribute to their hard work, their skills and in particular, the team work that RML demonstrates."

About RML
